CALLING ALL COOKS!

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen of the village,

Inspired by the Great British bake-off on the BBC, we think we should have a West Ilsley version, so we are calling all cooks to join us ... here's the plan:

- We've booked the village hall for the first Tuesday in the month until the end of the year.
- We all turn up at 8 pm with our version of the cake/dish of the month plus a copy of the recipe we've used.
- Cakes are set out for judging and we all get to look and taste and talk technique over a cuppa, whilst completing our scores for each offering.
- The scores are then totalled and 1st, 2nd and 3rd places are announced.

The topics for the first three months are:

4th October – flapjacks

1st November – lemon drizzle cake

6th December – mince pies

Whether you are a novice cook who needs inspiration and help, or are experienced and happy to pass on your wisdom, we do hope you will join us for what we think will be a fun evening. We think £2 each will adequately fund the cost of the hall and drinks.

Please let one of us know if you will be joining us.

PRODUCE SHOW 2011 Sue Simmons

As usual fierce competition was the order of the day at this year's produce show with a huge number of entries for most categories. There was a heated debate at the men only baking table involving some of the entrants with regard to what officially constitutes a Victoria sponge. After stern intervention from the judge and much sampling of said sponge, calm was restored. It was a lovely tribute to Russ Brown, who every year would rush in at the last minute, move all other entries to the back and inform me with confidence and a twinkle in his eye that his cakes were the only worthy winners, that there were so many entries for the men only baking category. Russ's granddaughter Sophie presented a cup donated by Irene to the winner.

Another good natured battle ensued at the potato section with a stand-off between David Carlisle and his mother – really David, you are a sore loser! I hope you are still talking to your mother. The category for most spuds grown in a pot was popular and spuds were counted and recounted resulting in a clear winner who won a bag of spuds!

Other entries that really stood out were Jane Carlisle's cottage flowers, Isobel Pigot's Rose, Juliet Banks' fabulous marmalade, Geoff Wond's lovely bread and no West Ilsley Produce Show would be complete without Jon Evans and his onions. Jon swept the board with three prizes in the onion category. Thank you to everyone who helped make this a great produce show. A big thank you to Liz Elliott who helped me judge this year.

This year's winners were.....

Cottage flowers – Jane Carlisle, Sue Carrington, Rachel Hudson
 Single Rose – Isobel Pigot, Louise Beaumont, Colin Sinclair
 Single flower – Isobel Pigot, Zoe Carrington, Sue Carrington
 3 Vegetables – David Carlisle, Ann Carlisle, John Verney
 Onions – Jon Evans, Jon Evans, Jon Evans
 Pots in a pot – Richard Gore
 Heaviest spud – Ann Carlisle, David Carlisle
 Jam – Jane Carlisle, Ann Carlisle, Shirley Gore
 Marmalade – Juliet Banks, Ann Carlisle, Shirley Gore
 Chutney – Babs Cox, Jane Carlisle, Shirley Gore
 Drink – Jacqui Watling, Justin Pilditch, Hayley Watling
 Men's baking – Justin Pilditch, Roger Sinclair, Steve Banks
 Fruit cake – Philip Knight, Ann Carlisle
 Bread – Geoff Wond, Philip Knight, Philip Knight
 Under 7's – Otis Springer, Kester Briggs-Watson, Hugo Hagen, Colin Sinclair
 Under 12's – Alice Knight, Juliet Banks, Rosie, Mae Hagen, Suzanne Beaumont
 Photography
 Over 16's – Jo Scriven, Philip Knight, Pauline Sinclair
 Under 16's – Briony Slater, Ellen Knight, William Beaumont
 I'm not sure which category it fitted into, but well done to Mick Channon Jnr for your 'effort', you tried very hard. Better luck next year.

COUNTY SHOW

The 2011 Royal County of Berkshire Show takes place on Saturday 17th and Sunday 18th September this year and is set to be a bumper Show. If tickets are purchased in advance you can make a saving of up to £3 per ticket.

There is something for all members of the family at the Show. The livestock competitions are always a great attraction, visitors can view the competitors in their stalls before the classes, getting close to some of the best cattle, sheep, pigs, poultry and even llamas that the UK can offer. New this year is the first National Dexter Show. Dexters are the smallest British breed of cattle and are extremely attractive in both size and personality.

The main ring's highlight display for 2011 is The Devil's Horsemen, these daredevil stunt riders will be performing Cossack style tricks on horseback at a gallop and will stun the crowds with their outstanding acrobatic skills. In addition The Band of The Brigade of Gurkhas will be performing in the main ring on both days; their military music is exceptional in that it is performed at a quicker march than their British counterparts.

With over 600 shops to browse, the shopaholics amongst us will be well catered for, but it's not only jewellery, clothing, homeware and gifts. There's also gardening stalls, DIY, tools, food, wine and crafts to enjoy. And for the foodies amongst us The Food Fare Marquee has a fantastic array of exceptional produce, much of it from local producers.

Keep the children amused with a visit to the old fashioned fun fair or let them try out the 'Top Gear' Simulator. Plus they can get up close with all sorts of reptiles in the Reptile Tent, they can enjoy pond dipping and meeting the hounds in the Countryside Area and they can round it all off with a visit to the Wicker Man – an awe-inspiring 30ft man of wicker made by The Oxford Sculpture Project.

For the equestrian enthusiast the Show has an excellent standard of jumping and showing classes culminating in the final of British Showjumping's International Stairway Competition.

Fans of The Archers will be delighted by a special exhibition at the Show commemorating 60 years of the popular BBC Radio 4 programme. Created by the University of Reading's Museum of English Rural Life (MERL), who also celebrate their 60th anniversary this year, the exhibition offers a unique opportunity for Archers' listeners to explore how the changing world of agriculture has been reflected throughout the programme's six decades. Members of The Archers team along with the curators of the exhibition will visit the show over the weekend to chat with fans and answer their questions.

Ticket Information:

There are some attractive discounts on tickets bought in advance, tickets can be purchased online at www.berkshireshow.co.uk or by telephone from the Newbury & District Agricultural Society on 01635 247155. Other local outlets will be selling tickets from the end of July, details can be found at www.berkshireshow.co.uk
