EDITORIAL POLICY

We are editors (though we don't edit unless we have to) – we are not reporters, so we only write something if we want to. We rely on villagers to contribute news and information and welcome updates from groups, committees and businesses to let the village know what is going on in their area of interest.

DISTRIBUTION

Our aim is to reach every dwelling in the village. Most homes have signed up to receive WIN by email, but for those who haven't, the Parish Council produces paper copies which are delivered by volunteers. If you have received a paper copy of this newsletter but have access to email, please join the email distribution list by contacting westilsleynews@westilsley.org – help to save paper and shoe leather!

PARISH COUNCIL UPDATE

We are stilling awaiting the dog bins and these will be installed around the recreation ground as soon as they arrive – we can only apologise for the lack of progress on this, shortage of delivery drivers or some other excuse. We are still struggling to find a suitable position for the VAS (speeding sign) but we will endeavour to find a solution. The flood alleviation works around the village hall have been completed by the contractors and the pond dredging is next on the agenda, so a big thank you to Clive and Stuart Clark (West Berks Sustainable Drainage Engineer) for their efforts. The village hall committee submitted a CIL bid to West Berks for some additional works but were unfortunately unsuccessful. They have requested some feedback as to why the bid was unsuccessful so as to improve their chances next time. The next phase of works for the village hall is for new doors and windows. Thanks to Tony for a great quiz at the Harrow on Wednesday evening and I know some much needed funds were raised for the fireworks. The village bonfire will be taking place on the 5 November, there will be a barbeque and the bar will be open. Thanks also to The Carlisles for allowing the use of their field for the bonfire and hope to see a good turnout on the night. And lastly, there is a vacancy on the PC, Justin Gilbert has resigned after 6 years of service – so a huge thank you to Justin and for his support over the years and look forward to a new recruit (don't all rush at once!). Alan Beaumont

As usual the Malthouse well reading has been dropping steadily since March this year and is now approximately 17.6 metres (approx 57 ft) below ground level. It was so lovely to host a large congregation in All Saints' church after so many months of outside services. A big thank you to everyone who helped in any way to make our Harvest Festival such a lovely occasion: to those who decorated the church so beautifully; to those who donated harvest gifts during the service, which were delivered to the West Berkshire Foodbank and to those who provided drink and nibbles after the service.

Working Party Tidy Up for Remembrance Day

WEST ILSLEY CC – CAPTAIN'S REPORT FOR 2021

Results wise, 2021 began on a somewhat downbeat note with two defeats and an abandonment in the opening three fixtures. Losing to Thame on the opening day was what we deserved having manfully dropped eight catches. Whilst that was farcical, the side's true potential was shown on our trip to Dorchester where we ran them very close only to lose by three wickets. That was very heartening despite losing 2020's top wicket taker to a knee injury that few thought he'd ever recover from. He didn't, still hasn't and probably never will.

Our first victory of the season arrived in week 4 away to Stokenchurch. After a brilliantly orchestrated early collapse, the middle order came together as Matty Fowler, Patrick Charrington, the Skipper and James Briggs laid the foundations for some stupid running and a failure to bat out the overs. In many ways, and not for the first time, this put the bowlers under pressure, and they responded with all five of them chipping in. Andy Brown (3-16) and Noah Deacon (3-15) were outstanding in our 134 run victory against one of the few sides who contained more than a few monumental *s.

Week 5 saw victory over a poor Aston Rowant 4th XI although a pattern was beginning to emerge. Brown's bowling was consistent throughout the season and his reliability invited others the opportunity to perform at the other end. With so many youngsters in the side, they were often erratic but showed they had plenty of ability.

Our most impressive losing performance of the season came away at the eventual champions Wantage. Chasing 187 (Brown 4-40), Charrington's 77 was one of the most impressive of the season. Alex Dibble and the Skipper both contributed but a brilliant catch to dismiss the latter swung the game. Both Fowlers were missing – with them, we'd have probably won the match.

Two thrilling draws followed against Steventon (Adie Dray 48 & Colin Sinclair 20) and Clifton Hampden (David Brooks 3-35) before a routine victory over Marcham (Skipper 66 & Brown 6-19 with a great spell of bowling).

It was then time for the worst game of the season at Thame where we got thoroughly dicked by 8 wickets having scored a paltry 66 all out.

We were then thumped by Dorchester at home despite the opening partnership of Brooks (66) and Ryan (51). Our 171/7 off 45 was put in perspective though as the visitors knocked them off inside 28 overs for the loss of only one wicket.

That was the worst of it though as an influx of previously 'now & then' squad players became available on a more consistent basis. Namely Peter Healy and George Gardiner.

They both got hundreds batting together in our 200 run victory against Didcot (Gardiner 109 & Healy 101 not out) with Noah Deacon turning in arguably the most impressive spell of the entire season taking 4-5. It was quite astonishing and typical of the ability and inconsistency of the youngsters. It would only be a fortnight until Noah bowled an 11 ball over, conceding 19 off it. Quite baffling really.

Healy's batting feats continued the following week against Stokenchurch where this time Matty Fowler, a model of consistency at No3 all season, made his much-deserved maiden century. This game goes down as Captain's error as the weather scuppered the chances of victory despite full awareness of the weather forecast.

Healy's third successive century could and should have arrived on our visit to Aston Rowant but Will Barnes managed to run him out for 80 in the most tragic and hilarious act of stupidity seen to date in the history of the game. Brown wrapped up the 187-run victory with 5-29.

Despite scoring 226 against Wantage at home (Barnes 76) we were toothless in attack, bowling 21 wides and losing by 6 wickets against a very good side.

Clifton Hampden then beat us by 7 wickets as they chased down the target of 172. We'd have made them fight for it a little more were it not for our extras column that fell just one short of a deserved half century. Sherlock Holmes may well suggest there's a pattern here.

The final game of the season at home to the already relegated but delightfully fun Marcham saw half centuries to Matty Fowler (58) and George Gardiner (69) with Jack Channon doing most of the damage with the ball (4-35) in Brown's only absence of the season. A win by 78 runs then, so it's probably time to appraise our strength and weaknesses.

BATTING

In Matty Fowler, Peter Healy and George Gardiner we can boast of probably the most talented run scorers at this level. With Tim Fowler it should only be a matter of time. He regularly gets a start but all too often a lapse in concentration sees him walking back in when seemingly under no threat of dismissal.

In Will Barnes and Alex Dibble we have two of the most destructive hitters (although utterly erratic performers) I've seen. James Briggs, Patrick Charrington, The Skipper and Adrian Dray can all be relied upon to contribute whilst there are some of the side who are brilliantly bizarre.

Adam Ryan looks like a batsman one week and a rabbit the next. Utterly baffling. You'd be tempted to predict a future for him as an all-rounder, but I don't think I've ever seen anyone look so good one week and so devoid of technique the next, only to see him pick up the ball and bowl brilliantly a week after being smashed to all corners due to a rancid long hop as his stock ball.

BOWLING

In 2021, Andy Brown bowled 139.1 overs, taking 36 wickets at an average of 14.61. He took the most wickets in the division and was the club's cornerstone. Adam Ryan took 14 wickets at 17.79 – he has a rare talent to swing the ball when he gets his length right although his consistency is equally as rare, he'll have a successful time at this level.

Which brings me to Colin Sinclair.

Colin only took 12 wickets all season at an average of over 33. He has pace, generates bounce, and has a lovely action. He just never threatens the stumps. He is sometimes a real handful and certainly a handy opener – I just hope that he too can add a little more consistency in the coming years. Developing a real hunger to actually take wickets would see him be far better than anyone at this level, but at times he seems happy to not get hit for four – which sometimes leads to an immediate capitulation and a request to be taken off.

As already stated, Noah Deacon was devastating at times but, as with Sinclair he was often erratic and wayward. His nine wickets from 54 overs at 26.89 tells its own story when viewed next to his best bowling of 4-5 at Didcot.

Matthew and Tim Fowler have been invaluable with their off and leg spin respectively. Indeed, Tim produced the best performance of spin bowling I've seen from anyone his age against Wantage.

All of the above: Ryan, Sinclair, Deacon and the Fowlers will be interesting to watch develop in the coming years. In the case of Ryan & Deacon, they thrive on encouragement, are both willing to listen and respond brilliantly to feedback. The Fowlers tend to feed off each other's performances whilst Colin is Colin!

The youngsters aside, Patrick Charrington's shoulder injury was a real blow as he was always a threat and provided control, whilst David Brooks was another in that mould whose season would be cut short by injury. The Skipper only managed 11 overs, but had he been able to replicate 2020 in tandem with Brown, a few results may have gone the other way.

Nicole Beasley always chips in with wickets, 10 this year at an average of 19.30 whilst for much of the second half of the season Peter Healy was underused. After his heroics with the bat, we've been in such a commanding position we've called upon others to do their share.

THE TEAM

By far the best part of the whole year has been the mix of characters within the team. We are almost split 50/50 down the middle in terms of extreme youth and extreme experience. Everyone has chipped in with runs, wickets, catches and most importantly, a spirit of enjoyment. Chrissy Walker, Ralph Taylor, Barnes, Dibble, Charrington and Briggs are far from ever present but slot effortlessly into the team when available and have a great balance of competitiveness and silly humour.

Walker & Brown have been a great source of leadership when the Skipper has struggled for ideas (and sometimes just basic maths) along with Nigel Chubb who has been invaluable throughout the year in terms of organising player availability and team selection.

WICC finished 2021 sixth in the ten team Cherwell Division 6C.

They Won 6, Drew 3, Lost 7 with two matches abandoned.

A proper middle of the road side with the ability to be very, very good and very, very poor in the space of 7 days.

That said, we boast the Division's highest wicket taker, had three centurions, and saw nine individuals reach half centuries.

With emerging young talent heading towards their potential, more consistency in the bowling should see the side be far more competitive in 2022.

Bowler of the Year 2021 – Andy Brown

Batsman of the Year 2021 – Peter Healy

U18 Player of the Year – Matty Fowler

I commend this statement to the House.
